RE: Tod and Teresa Alstad, Insurance Agents and Brokers

To Whom It May Concern:

Tod and Teresa Alstad have been providing Edgecombe Builders with group insurance and benefit packages for years. In addition to the group plans, they have also been providing personal insurance packages for individual employees, as well as for myself and my wife.

Since Edgecombe Builders started using Tod and Teresa, the company has grown significantly. As we've grown, our requirements have changed and they have always been very responsive and diligent in adapting our plans to suit the needs of the company and our employees. They have also been very good about being proactive and taking the initiative when there were options that we, as a company, should be considering.

Over the years I have met many insurance agents and brokers and I have to say that Tod & Teresa's character is evident in the way that they conduct themselves personally, and in business. There has never been any doubt that they are looking out for our best interests, both personally and as a company. The bottom line is that their service has always exceeded our expectations.

I would not hesitate to recommend Tod and Teresa to other individuals and organizations. If you require further information, please don't hesitate to call me.
